Mary Lentz of McCall & Almy Named One of 2011's 'Women of FIRE' by Banker & Tradesman

30-year industry veteran recognized for success and achievements in commercial real estate arena

BOSTON, Massachusetts – September 27, 2011 – McCall & Almy, a Boston-based commercial real estate brokerage and advisory firm focused on tenant representation and strategic real estate advice, is pleased to announce that Mary Lentz, executive vice president and principal, has been named one of Banker & Tradesman's 2011 'Women of FIRE' (Finance, Insurance & Real Estate). The award recognizes a group of select women that excel in the finance, insurance or real estate sectors.

Following the jury's review of over 100 nominees, Lentz was recently honored with other winners at a luncheon event in Boston. Lentz was chosen for her success in managing several of Boston's largest commercial real estate accounts, including Partners HealthCare and the Broad Institute, as well as for her philanthropic work. The award took into consideration her commitment to the community and leadership roles for advocacy groups within the commercial real estate industry. Lentz holds trustee positions with the Boston Arts Academy and the Newton-Wellesley Physicians Hospital Organization, and is a member of the Wayland High School Building Committee.

In her role with McCall & Almy, Lentz focuses on tenant representation and strategic planning, working to align each client's specific real estate needs with its unique business strategy and financial objectives. "It is an honor to be recognized as one of 2011's 'Women of FIRE' recipients," said Lentz. "I am grateful to have outstanding clients and the entire team at McCall & Almy. Together they have made my career truly rewarding and enjoyable."
